Moredocofe is run by Haile Gebre and his family. In total they own 500 hectares of land in Shakiso. Haile has taken a very careful and considered approach to farming, dedicating 70 hectares to pure forest. Haile utilizes organic farming principles believing that sustainability is about good environmental stewardship and that what you take out of the earth as crops should be put back in equal measure.

MOREDOCOFE

Producer Haile Gebre sees that his success can only come from the success of his local community, out-growers and his customers. He has many social programs in place to help develop his local community including a coffee seedling nursery that provides seedlings to other producers free of charge; a primary school for the care and education of the families of out-growers; and extensive agricultural education programs for producers in the area.
